Comments by Teachers

Dear Sir:—Although I haven't taken time to express my thanks and appreciation for your School Bulletin, I am very grateful to you for it. I have a flock of twenty-five under my care, and it often keeps me guessing to keep up interest. Our Bulletin helps so much, and the primary grades so love their agriculture lesson. Please accept my thanks for the pretty blotter. We take your paper and think it is fine. Very truly yours, O. R., Kansas.

Dear Sir:—Please send me sixty blotters for my pupils. We are using the Rural Schools Bulletin and Successful Farming and find them a great help. I find it rather hard to get my pupils to study the text books because they say Successful Farming is just as good and is always new and interesting. Yours truly, E. H. J., Ohio.

Dear Sir:—Am writing for thirty-seven blotters which you offer, thanking you in advance for them. I must say that you are a great helper. I am sure that every teacher certainly appreciates your work. Your lessons in agriculture are a great help. Hoping to receive more help, I remain, sincerely yours, G. H., Michigan.

Dear Sir:—Just received your Rural Schools Bulletin for November. I wish to say it is very helpful in the work a rural school teacher is called upon to do. I find most of the families take Successful Farming. I am familiar with it, as my brother was a subscriber when we lived on the farm. Thanking you, I remain, sincerely yours, R. S., South Dakota.

Dear Sir:—Received your Bulletins which have proved themselves worth their weight in gold with my pupils, as they enjoy and take more interest in their agricultural lessons, because they give them valuable knowledge of things upon this subject. I thank you for your help and hope that Succeasful Farming may ever continue to be a valuable home paper. My folks have taken it ever since I was a small child and expect to take it as long as they live. Yours very truly, G. H., Ohio.

Dear Sir:—I am receiving your Rural Schools Bulletin and find it a valuable help. The November copy has just arrived, and I find it is intensely interesting. Received the blotter for which I wish to thank you. Will you please send me some blotters to be distributed among my pupils? Thanking you, I remain, yours truly, N. S., Wisconsin.

Free to Teachers of Rural Schools

A Successful Farming Service

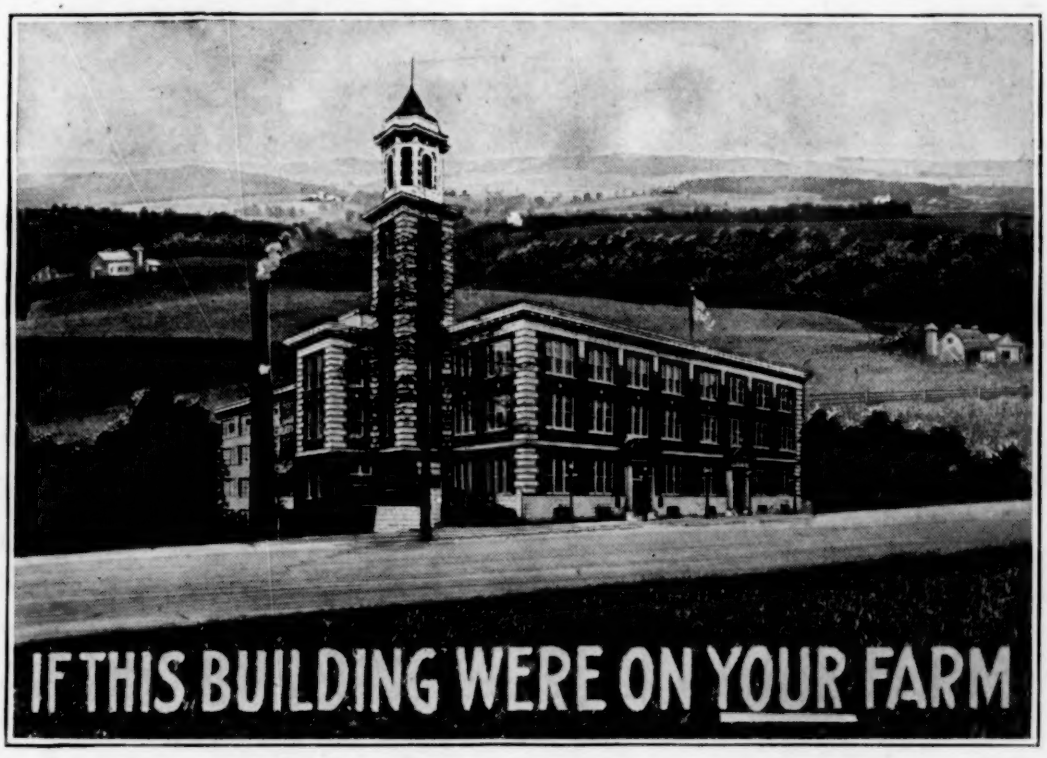
THE Rural Schools Bulletins are published monthly and furnished free, to teachers who request them, in states named below: South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia.

Teachers who are using the Rural Schools Bulletin find that it is a wonderful help in teaching agriculture. Pupils in schools where these Bulletins are used take a lively interest in the study of agriculture and a greater interest in all school work.

Successful Farming believes it is just as important that agriculture be taught in country schools as it is that vocational training be taught in city schools. The Bulletin will make the teacher's work even more pleasant and enable her to get far better results.

If the teacher of your school is not using these Bulletins, we suggest that you tell her about them. Ask her to write to us requesting that her name be placed on the Rural Schools Bulletin list. Or, write for a copy of the Bulletin yourself, and then tell your teacher about this service. We will be glad to hear from you.

Successful Farming, E. T. Meredith, Publisher, Des Moines, Iowa



IF the Successful Farming plant were on your farm you could drop in at any time and consult the Successful Farming Subscribers' Information Bureau, without cost, about any farm problem that bothered you. You would have the opportunity to consult with men who are specially trained in the practice and science of farming and live stock raising.

If your pigs were sick; if your cows were not giving enough milk; if you wondered how to get a good stand of alfalfa—no matter what your problem, you would find a man in this building who could advise you what to do. Just as you call a doctor when you are sick, you could call on one of these experts for help when you needed it.

Practical Folks

With the Successful Farming organization, there are practical farmers who are experts on soils, crops, dairying, cattle and hogs, horticulture, poultry, farm marketing, diseases of farm animals, and farm-home problems. These men and women were employed so that Successful Farming might help you to make more money, and to get more real enjoyment out of farm life.

Successful Farming's Subscribers' Information Bureau is in close touch with the Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, with a great number of recognized specialists and with thousands of successful farmers. They gather information from all of these sources and pass it on to you.

FOR all practical purposes the services of these experts are just as available as tho the Successful Farming building were on your own farm. A network of railroads, the postal service, and rural carriers bring right to your very door the personal assistance of the world's greatest agricultural experts.

More than 75,000 of our readers have taken advantage of this service during the past three years. Many of them write again and again for advice on different subjects. These readers have learned to get the greatest possible value out of their subscriptions to Successful Farming. Their many requests are evidence of complete satisfaction with the service rendered.

For Your Benefit

This Bureau was established for your benefit. You, as a subscriber to Successful Farming, are entitled to its services without extra charge. You are cordially invited to make use of it freely. Write as often as you like about any farm problem. We will consider it a pleasure to be of service to you at any time.

Successful Farming Service is given in addition to the monthly copies of the magazine itself. Each copy contains from seventy-six to two hundred and forty-eight pages—more than 1,500 pages yearly of practical helpful information about farming and farm homes. Present subscription rates are: 35 cents for one year; $1 for three years.
